Growth is Life. We cannot escape from this expansive force. From the beginning of our embryonic stage until today, we have not been fully aware of the changes which took place to make us what we are. The process of growth, however unconscious, is continual. In many instances, efforts are thwarted — the branch must grow in another direction. This constant searching, groping, and rerouting of our ideas makes us like a tree which will grow not only tall and spindly, but like a stalwart oak with strong, yet grotesque, limbs.

Dedication

To DR. MARSHALL SCOTT WOODSON

President of Flora Macdonald College, Acting President of the Consolidated Presbyterian College, President of the Council of Church Related Colleges in the South, humble servant of God, competent administrator, devoted friend; who chooses the right with invincible resolution; who resists the greatest temptations from within and without; who bears the heaviest burdens cheerfully; who is calmest in storms and most fearless under menace and frowns, and whose reliance on truth, on virtue, and on God is most unfaltering—we dedicate the 1960 WHITE HEATHER.

In accord with action taken by the Synod of North Carolina, Flora Macdonald College moves toward a consolidation with Peace and Presbyterian Junior Colleges in the fall of 1961 on a new campus at Laurinburg, North Carolina. Work on the campus lake has been completed; the building program is in progress; the "Christianity and Culture" curriculum is taking shape; and, at their November 1959 meeting, the Board of Trustees elected Dr. Ansley C. Moore as the first president of Consolidated Presbyterian College.

The acorn possesses potentialities of greatness and beauty. Still not fully awakened, it lies dormant until pulsating life causes it to develop and grow sunward. The delicate, yet flourishing, sprout begins to react to life in the forest. The ground becomes dry, the sun seems to exude dust — yet finally the rain comes through the splintered windows of heaven and the organism continues to grow. . . .

Hovering over the small sapling, the lofty trees seem to obscure its every need. Forced to live in a somber world of ashen sunlight, the small tree, nevertheless, desires to overcome the obstacles which impede its development. Stepped on by apathetic travelers, it yet leaps back, only to wait for the next adversity.

Having contiued to grow in the face of inconceivable odds, the tree has almost reached the level of the most eminent ones in the tangled growth. As the sun rises to its apex, the limbs cast long, black, inky stains mingled with other blots on the earth not covered with dark underbrush.

Strong, virulent, seemingly unconquerable, the tree has at last towered above the tallest in the forest. Its leaves form a bouquet of varied shapes, each a symbol of the devious avenues of development that have been necessary since its earliest beginning. The branches are not all graceful; many are gnarled. The trunk is scarred, showing that many have tried to fell it. What will be its next avenue of development?

We present to you our thoughts and work. As a staff we have pondered all the aspects of growth at Flora Macdonald and the world we will enter, endeavoring to compare it to a larger concept in nature.

May this book grow with you as new vistas of life are discovered, and may this be a record of a year of your growth at Flora Macdonald College.

Mary DeWitt Dukes and Jerrie Johnson describe the merits of a hundred dollar ad.

Dash for the deadline—February 15!

Staff

Scribblers

The Skirl

Ann McLeod, Editor of the "Skirl"

Increased Enrollment Requires More Space . . . Summer Experiences . . . Meet Our Transfers . . . Orientation . . . Welcome to New Faculty . . . New Staff Personalities . . . Editor's Effort . . . Debbie MacLeod, president; Babs Adams, first vice-president; Carroll Shoemaker, second vice-president; Betty Thompson, secretary; Hanna Sloop, treasurer; Penny Moore, censor; Sandra Abbott, pianist.

Zeta Theta Psi

In this local campus society, fondly known as Zetesian, one might hear:

"O. K., now let's . . . All in favor—no left hands! . . . Doesn't Dianne make a beautiful Miss Merry Christmas? . . . For tonight's entertainment . . . How many cokes? Any oranges? . . . Winter wonderland — didn't the dance committee do a fabulous job? . . . Our college friendship is the finest, worth any price that you can pay . . . Green and white, our emblem: 'Zetesian,' to thee."

Free popcorn and punch during Rush Week—from Zetesian, of course!

Day Students

The Day Students' Association was formed in order to provide an organization for the students who could not be present on the campus at all times. The Association thus allows the decisions of the majority to be more efficiently carried out. They plan various entertainment for the day students, along with meetings every Wednesday to discuss any aspect of college life pertaining to them.

Membership is larger currently than any previous year; a larger number of boys are enrolled than in any former college session. During this year the Day Student representative has been given a seat on the Christian Association Cabinet.

The Day Students hope that its members will continue to be recognized as an integral part of the college community and that the benefits derived from this association will be mutually helpful to the day students and to the college.

Officers are Bertha Thompson, president; Carl Lancaster, vice-president; Frances Gibson, secretary-treasurer; Shirley Sessoms, A. A. representative; Shirley McNeill, C. A. representative; John McManus, reporter.

Concert Lecture Series

The Players Incorporated presented "Macbeth."

Guy Fallot, cellist, gave F.M.C. a rare musical experience.

Nell Rankin, leading mezzo-soprano, poses after her memorable performance with her accompanist and the chief marshal.

The English version of "Carmen" was presented by the National Opera Company.

Lilian Kallir, gifted young pianist, meets piano major Dianne Kearns.

Drama

Presenting two major productions, the Highland Players chose varied plays. The first, "Dirty Work at the Crossroads," an old-fashioned melodrama contrasted to Lorca's "The House of Bernarda Alba" produced in early spring.

Highland Players is composed of those interested in all phases of dramatics. Outstanding work over a period of time merits election to the honorary Alpha Psi Omega.

FLORA MACDONALD COLLEGE

RED SPRINGS, NORTH CAROLINA

64th Year

ACCREDITED SENIOR COLLEGE AND CONSERVATORY
B.A., B.S., and B.M. DEGREES

Flora Macdonald College has "that something." You can't quite describe it. You feel it — just as soon as you step on the campus. It's "something" intangible but real. Ask any student who has lived in the elevating and energizing atmosphere of the college. You will be told it's "something" that gets into one's heart, mind, and soul — "something" that awakens the best — "something" that lays hold of the best — "something" that brings out the best. It's "something" a student feels when studying in the library or listening to a lecture in the classroom or playing basketball in the gym or walking through the college gardens. It's "something" that makes a student want to work and play and live with zest and joy and abandonment. It's "something" a student finds at Flora Macdonald — "something" that lives in her and with her during her college years — "something" which goes with her out into life and makes her a unique person, radiant in personality, unselfish in spirit, and successful in her career as a teacher or nurse or pastor's assistant or technician or secretary or wife and mother or leader in her church and community. "That something" is the plus in education which Flora Macdonald offers you. It's "that something" which money cannot buy but which no girl who has found it would exchange for all the wealth of India.

Dr. Charles Gildersleeve Vardell, Acting President
